Timely Information and Updates for Employers and Retirement Plan Sponsors

2024 Retirement Planning Key Numbers

Retirement plan contribution limits are increasing again for 2024, although by a more moderate amount than the historically large inflation-driven increases of 2023. Phase-out income limits for Roth IRA and deductible traditional IRA contributions are set to increase as well.

Qualified retirement plan participants ages 60-63 will see a new “super catch up” contribution category become available to them in 2025, thanks to the SECURE 2.0 Act of 2022.

*A phase-out is the gradual reduction of a tax credit as a taxpayer approaches the income limit to qualify for that credit. If your income is below the bottom of the phase-out range, you may qualify for the full credit. If it is above the top of the range, you may not qualify for any of the credit. Incomes within the phase-out range may qualify for a partial credit, with the percentage of credit received generally decreased as income increases.
